Milo Notes

The Badminton Tournament, held in Oddfellows' Hall March 17th, was a wonderful success. Teams were entered from Champion, Vulcan, High River, Queenstown and Milo in the six different events, which commenced at 11 a.m. and lasted until past midnight. Cups were presented to the winners of the 3 main events, mens doubles, ladies doubles and mixed doubles and suitable prizes to winners in the three secondary events. The results of semi-final games in men's doubles were as follows: Dr. Soby and C. Harrow of High River lost to G. Williams and N. McLeod of Milo 7-15 and 1-15. F. Watts and Mr. McIntyre of Champion lost to E. Cully and A. Chevalier of Milo, 10-15 and 15-18. In the finals E. Cully and A. Chevalier won 15-7, 18-15 and 18-14 from G. Williams and N. McLeod. In the semi-finals of the Ladies' doubles Mrs. Soby and Miss Bethel of High River lost to Mrs. Nelson and Miss Nettall of Milo 1-15 and 6-15. Mrs. Sutton and Miss Peterson of Milo lost to Miss Bastin and Mrs. Ditto of Champion 7-15 and 9-15. In the finals Mrs. Nelson and Miss Nettall defeated Miss Bastin and Mrs. Ditto 15-7, 2-15 and 2-15. In the mixed doubles semi-finals, Mrs. Nelson and E. Cully of Milo lost to Mrs. Ditto and F. W. Watt of Champion 8-15 and 11-15. Mrs. Sutton and N. McLeod of Milo lost to Miss McPherson and Billy Wright of Vulcan 4-15 and 5-15. In the finals Miss McPherson and Billy Wright defeated Mrs. Ditto and F. Watt 17-14, 10-15 and 10-10. In the finals of Men's doubles, secondary event, C. Lucia and B. Wright defeated Mr. Campbell and Mr. McLaughlin of Queenstown 15-8 and 15-5. Mrs. Sutton and Miss Peterson defeated Miss Phillips and Miss Asselstine of Queenstown 15-4 and 15-11 in the finals of the Ladies' doubles, secondary event. Miss Bastin and C. Lucia of Champion defeated Miss Peterson and A. Chevalier of Milo 15-3, 5-15 and 18-17 in the finals of the mixed doubles, secondary event. All competitions produced some very fine games, the most exciting and well played games being in the finals of the Men's doubles. Mr. Cully and Mr. Chevalier won the first game easily 15-7, but in the second game Williams and McLeod got right down to stonier playing and won 18-15. In the third game they had their opponents down to 18-5 and were unable to make another point in 11 ends, with the result that Cully and Chevalier finally won the game and cups.

Constable Batta, of Gleichen, has been a frequent visitor to Milo lately.

Dr. Powell, of Calgary, delivered a lecture in the United Church on Monday evening.

Mrs. A. Alston is a visitor at the home of B. Hill, Vulcan.

Queenstown Items

The old time dance on Friday the 16th was quite a success.

To whom it may concern—Dorothy Mallett wishes to extend her thanks for the return of her watch.

The U.F.W.A. held a bridge party on Tuesday night with a large attendance. The prizes were won by Mrs. McRae, Mr. Miller, Miss I. M. Williams and Mr. F. Dutton. After the end the ladies served a very enjoyable lunch.

The Queenstown U.F.W.A. met at the home of Mrs. S. Williams on Wednesday 14th, with fourteen present. The meeting opened by singing, "It's a Long Way to Tipperary". The roll call was answered by giving place of birth. It was decided to hold the meetings the second Wednesday of each month. After the meeting a dainty lunch was served by the hostess.

Miss D. Mallett has returned home after spending an enjoyable visit at Bedfordton.

Don't forget the picture show at Queenstown every Wednesday night.

Buffalo Hill Notes

A dance will be held at Buffalo Hill School on Easter Monday, April 2nd, under the auspices of the recently organized Softball Club. Gents 25c, Ladies Free. Good music.

Another of those enjoyable social events (in the form of an open supper and whist party) was held at the Sunset Valley School on Friday, March 16th. In addition to the others there were many other good things, which contributed to the final results of a good time.

At time of writing we are glad to report that Mr. Taugen has trace of his lost legs and his mind is much relieved thereby.

"He's My Pal"

A comedy drama in 3 acts, under the auspices of the W. A., will be presented in this school auditorium on Saturday, March 24th, at 8:30 p.m. Adults 35c, Children over 10 years 25c, 10 years and under 15c.

Would you give up the girl you loved to your best pal, if it was for his happiness and hers, particularly if you loved your life to him? This is Wally Allen's hard dilemma, which threatens to wreck the peace of Ma Averill's happy family of boarders. It makes three other persons beside Wally thoroughly unhappy: his pretty fiancée, who does not love him; his beloved pal, who has sacrificed an arm for him; and the quiet ugly-duckling-swan girl who is secretly in love with him. With her aid, Wally, who is a game sport, practices a kindly deception upon his pal, with a view to breaking his engagement and leaving the lovers free to marry. His self-sacrifice eventually brings happiness to all. A delectable play, overflowing with lively humor and pathos. The minor roles include: a henpecked husband, who learns a new trick in handling a domineering wife; two cocky young salesmen; a breezy and slangy beauty specialist; a comical darky cook; and the motherly boarding-house keeper, guardian angel of lovers.

Teachers Entertain Primary Department

Last Saturday afternoon from 2 to 4, thirty-two children of the Primary Department had a very happy time in the basement of the church where they were being entertained by their teachers and leaders of the Department. Mrs. Wienand also was present and much credit is due her for the untiring help she so nobly gave in the entertainment of the children.

We had so hoped that every child would be able to be present and therefore felt exceedingly sorry for all the little faces that could not be seen.

At the close a lunch, consisting of sandwiches, cocoa, ice cream and cake, was served by the hostesses.

On Sunday afternoon while visiting at the home of Walter Ward, Mr. E. Lewendon met with an accident which might have proved fatal had not been for the quick action of Mr. Ward. Mr. Lewendon had gone to the barn to see a couple of young bulls recently purchased by Mr. Ward. The animals had been dehorned on Saturday and being in an infuriated state kicked at him knocking him unconscious, pawing him severely. In spite of the fact that he is badly bruised and cut we are pleased to see him out around.

The World's Great Handicap

In an address delivered recently at Watrous, Sask., Professor Swanson of the University of Saskatchewan, said he could see signs on the horizon of a return to economic sanity, but "fear is in the way." He said: "International fear, political fear, biological fear, fear of Japan, economic fear, Life is overshadowed and overclouded with fear. The time has now arrived," he added, "to take place or leadership in our country, in overcoming these fears. On the Western plains there is no place for this fear."

Then in the United States we have Bruce Barton, one of the most observant and sanest writers of the day, pointing out that the economists even pretty well agreed that the bottom of the depression has been reached and passed and that business is fundamentally better all over the world, while of his own country he says it is now in the position of a sick man on his way back to health; that while a great many medicines are being applied, some of which probably help the patient's recovery and some of which hurt, the important fact is that health is returning, and that the country can stand a considerable dose of patent medicines without permanent harm; and that when the country is really healthy it will throw the patent medicines bottles out of the window, discharge the most radical doctors, and go on its way.

Bruce Barton, however, points to two very important things for people to remember and heed. It is, he says, vitally important to keep an optimistic. Things never again are going to be the same as they were; on the other hand, they are not going to be so entirely different as some enthusiastic people would have us believe. It is, he says, no use sighing for the Rachel of the good old days, it is even less useful to assume that all the past was bad and must be discarded. His advice is: "Keep moderate; keep flexible."

Most important, says Bruce Barton, "fight all fear," and he urges that the words of Thorstein Bunde Veblen can be seen every day: "Internalism is so much to be feared as fear. The sin that God hates is fear; He thinks atheism innocent in comparison."

It is undeniably true that fear is the great obstacle to a return to normal conditions throughout the world. It is fear that prevents disarmament and continues to impose upon the taxpayers of the nations the crushing burden of huge armies, navies, air fleets, and the whole complicated paraphernalia of war establishments. It is fear that leads nations to erect hostile tariffs against the goods and products of other nations. It is fear that is keeping untold millions of money locked up instead of it circling through all the channels of business and providing work and wages for countless thousands at present unemployed. It is fear that is distorting the minds of people and making them the easy victims of others who preach the gospel of discontent and despair.

Fear never makes for progress. Being destructive of constructive thought and initiative, it acts as a brake on progress, preventing the launching of new enterprises, discouraging expansion and further developments. Through the engendering of timidity and lack of self-confidence, fear leads man to withdraw into himself and behind isolation protective devices wherein he covers his head and hides his face. A word, which makes him a coward with a coward's outlook on life and its responsibilities.

It is the future of which most people appear to be fearful. They decline to recognize and accept the lessons and experience of the past as having any bearing upon or value for the problems and experience of the present. Instead, in their fear, they say present difficulties are different from anything ever before known, and consequently neither they nor any other person or persons know what to do or what action to take.

So, in their fear, they will not take actions which would not only accomplish something but would inspire others to action, and the cumulative effect of which would be a solving of difficulties. Work would be provided for hundreds and thousands of people now idle if others having some reserves would take their courage in their hands and proceed to have that, or the other little job done which demands attention. But, no, they will not venture even a small expenditure and thus they retard progress and help to perpetuate a condition of things which, if continued, will mean their own ruin.

Wise parents seek to overcome fear on the part of their children. They do it judiciously but persistently because they realize that the obsession of fear is the greatest possible handicap in life. Wise leaders of the human race in all walks of life should join forces in waging war on fear which now possesses so many, and they should join battle with those who are engaged in capitalizing fear as an agency in the advancement of feelings of economic despair.

Saskatchewan Homesteads

Special Consideration To Be Given To

Veterans Of The Great War

Granting special rebates to veterans of the Great War who served in an actual theatre of war, but also applying to all purchasers to the extent that free homesteads are practically obtainable again in Saskatchewan, new land regulations, retroactive to 1929, will shortly be announced by the government. Under the new regulations all provincial lands for sale will be advertised without classification. Interest charges for 1933 and 1934 have already been forgiven and if conditions warrant, no interest will be charged in 1935. But, in any event, the rate will be cut to five per cent. Several thousand buyers will benefit.

A factory at Stron, Manito, turns out approximately 50,000,000 tin-gliders daily.

Alberta's Greenhouses

Value Of Sales In 1931 Was Placed

At $260,000

Though Alberta is thought of by most people as a country of wheat it has considerable space devoted to greenhouses. Alberta leads the other prairie provinces in this respect. The figure recently released at Ottawa shows that in 1931, the province had some 642,000 square feet under glass in greenhouses not on farms, and in addition some 526,000 square feet under glass on farms. The value of the business done from these greenhouses in sale of flowers, flowering plants, vegetables and vegetable plants was placed at approximately $260,000. These figures indicate that the greenhouse business in this province is a fairly substantial one.

Fatal cases of influenza in England numbered much less in 1932 than in 1931.

Household Drudgery
The Bane of a Woman's Life

Nature intended women to be strong and healthy instead of weak and sickly, but how can a woman stand when she has to go through the household drudgery without any relaxation. It is any woman who becomes nervous and irritable, has hot flashes, faint and dizzy spells, shortness of breath, sinking and smothering sensations, and can't sleep at night.

Women who are weak and run down will find in Milburn's H. & N. Pills a remedy to strengthen the system and bring back the most desired health.

Such Birds Have Lived

A wingless rooster recently received by the Smithsonian Institution has defied precedents established by fowls that have been hatched without wings heretofore by living to grow into healthy adulthood minus the customary appendages. In all other such cases known to science the wingless birds have died while still young chicks.

The present specimen was found in the flocks of Mrs. Otto Deering, of Ross Hill, Ky., who sent it to the institution. Its behavior seems to be normal in most ways, and it is afraid to make jumps that would not bother an ordinary chicken. It hesitates a long time, for instance, before jumping from a table to the floor to obtain food, even when it is very hungry.

Far-Seeing Romanticist

Frenchman Predicted Phonograph Long Before It Became Reality

Admirers of Thophile Gautier, the great French romanticist, point out that he forebushadowed the phonograph many years before it became a reality. In 1847 Gautier wrote in La Presse: "One day it will be possible to make polished plates receive and preserve the vibrations of sound, and thus conserve and perpetuate a melody by Marlo, a trade by Rachini, or a couple by Frederic Lemaitre. Thus we shall be able to keep hanging on the wall the serenade of Don Quixote, the imprecations of Camille, the love declarations of Ruy Blas—records of an evening when the artist is in good form."

Firemen Were On Their Way But

Forgot Address

From a number of the faculty of Sarah Lawrence College in Bronxville, New York, we have heard about the shock a Revere family had one night about a quarter past eleven. Mamma and Daddy and the kiddies had all gone to bed when they heard the screeching and rumping of fire-engines. The husband just turned over in bed, but the wife got up and went to the window. She saw three or four fire-engines standing practically at her curb, puffing and chugging. And suddenly her doorbell rang. Shouting at her husband (who still didn't get up) she threw something at him and he shouted and went down and opened the door. "Can I use your phone, lady?" asked a big fireman standing there. "Yes," she said. "Where's the fire?" "Gotta find out," he said, brushing past her. "We all forgotta address."—The New Yorker.

Marvels of the Human Eye
By F. M. CROWE, Optometrist-Optician, Calgary

NO. 4.—HYPEROPIA OR "FAR-SIGHTEDNESS"

The normal or standard eyeball is about twenty-four millimeters or one inch in depth. Such an eye with properly curved Cornea and Lens will focus the rays of light emerging from objects looked at on the Retina and the brain will interpret the image clearly and with comfort.

Should however an eyeball be too short or the Cornea and Lens too flat, the natural point of focus would be behind the Retina, which being impeded, dimly and imperfectly focused vision is the result. Such is the Hyperopia eye.

Nature has provided that such an eye may overcome this trouble to a limited extent by forcing the Lens to become more convex (Accommodation), but this being a forced focus uses up a greater amount of nervous energy than the rest of the body can well spare, sooner or later unpleasant symptoms develop in the form of headaches, nervousness, insomnia, unreasonable irritability, aches and pains in the back of the neck, habitual constipation, indigestion, in fact the far-reaching effects of this condition cannot be estimated and yet it is the most common form of eye trouble. Ninety per cent. of children are born thus and many of them never attain to a normally developed eye. It should not be thought that this is a disease. It is merely a structural defect and science has again come to our aid with properly ground lenses to entirely neutralize the results of this defect and when worn eliminate the excessive demand on the nervous system which is followed by relief of the symptoms.

The term "Farsightedness" when applied to this condition, is very misleading because a person can be so "Farsighted" or "Hyperopic" as to be unable to distinguish features across the street. It is more difficult for a "Hyperope" to see at close range than for distance hence the term "Far-sightedness." Hyperopia is almost always the cause of a vision eye being "crossed" or turned in.

A Return to Sane Thinking

Mr. Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture for the United States, recently stated that if that country is to become committed to a policy of "Nationalism" and self-sufficiency that agriculture would have to withdraw permanently from cultivation between 40 million and 100 million acres of fairly good farm land.

The "planned" production would mean, warns the secretary, an army-like discipline on agriculture even beyond warlike experience, the licensing of every ploughed field, quotas for every farmer and product, and as well the removal of large numbers of farm people from the land which would require much governmental aid to take care of them, all of which would necessitate, he thinks, some 500 thousand enforcement officers.

The only way to avoid such a disagreeable prospect, the Secretary considers, would be for the United States to be willing to admit between 500 and 1,000 million dollars' worth of additional goods yearly from other countries so that an equivalent in value of American farm products might be exported abroad.

It is most refreshing to find the Secretary of Agriculture taking such a common-sense and realistic view of things. Perhaps it is an indication that the U.S. government is beginning to turn at last from the doctrines of those advisers who are said to believe in what is termed "The New Economics," "The New Era," and "The New Deal" and to be considering instead those sound principles of economic theory that have been accepted by most authorities since the days of Adam Smith. That great thinker pointed out in 1776 that in the long run goods and commodities exported by a nation could only be paid for by the importation of goods and commodities from other nations; he also exposed the delusion that imports from abroad were harmful to a nation, and he also reminded us that "The wealth of a country consists not only in its gold and silver but in its lands, houses and consumable goods of all kinds."

One nation at least, Great Britain, long ago realized that the only way she could receive interest payments on the vast sums she loaned abroad was in the form of importations of goods and commodities; that payments of her loans to the Argentine, for instance, could only be received in the form of yearly amounts of beef and wheat from that country.

Some consider the U.S. herself started the wave of "Nationalism" now spreading over the world with the Hawley-Smoot Tariff in 1930. Be that as it may it is none the less heartening to find that country considering a return again to those economic policies which during the past 200 years or so have greatly increased the wealth of nations and the welfare of people.

Certain it is that such international trading policies, if adopted again by most countries in the world, would tend to increase substantially the sale of Canadian wheat on the world's markets, and so increase the welfare of our Western farmers.—Grain Market Features, Seale Grain Co. Ltd.

The Victorious Life

Telling a story of two boys and a joke played which turned out to be a mean trick and how the other boy "got even" pointing out how natural it is for us human beings to try and get even with the other fellow and how it pulls us down by so doing, this coming down to his level, instead of lifting him up, by kindness and returning good for evil, to the Christian level, was the opening thought of the talk given by Mrs. John Wiese at the Church of the Brethren on Sunday evening. Using for her text the words of the Master from the fifth chapter of Matthew, where He refers to the old law of "an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth," Jesus said He came to change that law, "That ye resist the evil, pray for your enemies and go the second mile."

"The attitude of people today," Mrs. Wiese went on to say, "is to be like the other fellow, to get even, and that is our justification for what we do. In this way, our standards are lowered, and that we are not helping the other person heavenward." "Gossiping," said, "was the Devil's mud. When it is thrown at us will we throw it back again?"

"Young people," the speaker brought out, "are having trials to be Christians. Others call them smuts, and 'goody-goodies,' misjudging the motives of true, pure, Christian living." The heart of her theme was "Fellowship in our victorious life"—whipping the Devil at his own game—that we must develop pure, noble, Christian culture by trying to pull some one else down. The Devil's catalogue—Galatians 5:19-21.

To be a Christian is to live the victorious life as Christ would have us live. Christ's Catalogue—Galatians 5:22-23. Folks do not want to be different, but there must be a difference between the works of darkness and the works of light. There is only one level to which we should try to attain—God. Perfection in living is not in big things—it is in the heroic, victorious living of the daily task of life.

"The life has been planned by Me."

Let common things thy request be."

"A Victorious Life," Mrs. Wiese said, "is not selfish. Young people of today think that to have a victorious life they would not be popular; but to be popular is to be 'wishy-washy' and 'two-faced.' We cannot be popular with God and the Devil. To be popular is unwise. We must have the power of the Holy Spirit to live a life of victory."

In closing she said: "The Victorious Life is not in the minority. It might be where you are, but not in the sight of God."

Output of nickel in Canada in 1932 totaled 20,327,563 pounds valued at $7,719,552. Production during the first six months of 1933 amounted to 22,502,434 pounds—compared with 21,527,736 pounds for the corresponding period of 1932.

Every home at some future date will have "air conditioning" and the word "heating" will pass out of use among home owners. J. J. Duowan, General Electric Company expert, told a largely attended meeting of the Electrical Club at the Royal York hotel, Toronto, recently.

Steep grades of the Rocky Mountain areas presented no difficulty to the Royal Scot, crack British flyer, en route to Winnipeg and the east from Vancouver recently. The all-British train is attracting great popular enthusiasm throughout Canada on its return journey to Montreal.

Montreal's "million dollar hole" on Dorchester street, where a railway terminal was to have been built, will become the world's most costly sunken garden, if Canada sees eye to eye with the couple of Montreal aldermen who advocate beautifying the gash with flowers and shrubs.

Canadian Pacific employees under 21 and minor sons of employees are again offered the opportunity of two University of Montreal scholarships by competitive examination, according to an announcement by Grant Hall, senior vice-president of the company.
